

When to use this form

If you normally carry out work in two or more countries within the European Economic Area (EEA), the completion of this form will enable HM Revenue & Customs to determine which country's social security legislation will apply.

The form should only be completed by, or on behalf of a:

- United Kingdom (UK) resident who normally works in two or more countries within the EEA, or
- person resident in another EEA country that normally works in two or more countries within the EEA only if the transitional provisions apply (see transitional provisions below), or
- non-EEA resident that works in two or more countries within the EEA for a UK employer.

If none of the above applies you should contact the social security authorities of the country in which you live.

EEA nationals

From 1 May 2010 social security liability is determined by EC Regulation 883/04. Under EC Regulation 883/04 the authorities of the country in which you are resident will determine which country's social security legislation will apply.

Non-EEA nationals

If you are not an EEA national, but are legally resident in a European Union Member State, social security legislation is determined by EC Regulation 1408/71.

Transitional provisions

A person that was subject to UK social security legislation prior to 1 May 2010, under EC Regulation 1408/71, will continue to remain subject to UK legislation if EC Regulation 883/04 would mean a change of applicable social security legislation, throughout the transitional period (of up to 10 years) unless:

- there is a change of circumstances, or
- the person asks to be dealt with under EC Regulation 883/04.

Further information

If you are subject to UK social security legislation:

- form A1 (or E101 if Regulation 1408/71 applies) will be sent to you confirming that you remain subject to UK social security legislation.
- we will notify the competent authorities in the countries in which you are working that you remain subject to UK legislation.
- you should continue to pay UK National Insurance contributions.
- National Insurance contributions (NICS) will be payable on earnings from non-UK employers as well as UK employers.

If your employment circumstances change you should notify us immediately.

We may check your circumstances throughout the period to ensure that the conditions under which you remain subject to UK legislation are still met.

If you are subject to the social security legislation of another country we will write and let you know why.
